BURYING THE DEAD.

Forest Fire Victims Removed From View.

THE NUMBER HAS INCREASED.

It is Now Estimated That There Were Between 375 and 400 People Perished. Memorial Exercises to be Held Next Sunday—Relief Work Being Pushed. Forest Fires Still Raging.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—A special to The Pioneer Press from Pine City, Minn., says: The corrected figures are of a character calculated to lower rather than raise the total number of dead. There has been an increase over previous estimates at Hinckley, but the prospect of any considerable number remaining still in the woods is decreasing. There are 233 buried in Hinckley graveyard and perhaps a dozen more buried at other points in the vicinity, increasing the total here to about 250, but the additional number here may be safely taken away from the liberal estimate allowed for those yet unlocated, leaving the total between 375 and 400.

Three of the bodies found yesterday were identified as the Olsen children. Their mother is in the hospital at Minneapolis badly burned. When she was here at Pine City she was confident that her husband and children were alive. The children have now been found, and the father is undoubtedly dead.

Mr. Webber's report of interments shows an increase over the estimates. All that have been brought in were buried and his list shows 233. He says that possibly this is too low as a few boxes were put in and recorded as containing single bodies before he learned that some boxes held more than one corpse. After that he opened each box before it was covered and counted the bodies. The four trenches were rounded up and smoothed over and the traces of the work that had gone on there for the past four days removed so far as possible. The force was dismissed and probably no more organized work will be done in the cemetery.

Dr. Norton of Minneapolis, who went over to Mora yesterday, reported to Pine City that the total dead at that point was 23, and that all the missing were accounted for. This is an increase of but two at that point. No changes were reported from elsewhere.

A movement is in the air here to do something by way of testimonial for the crews of the Duluth and Eastern trains, which took out so many people, although it has not taken definite shape.

The program of memorial exercises has not yet been arranged definitely. Local musicians are at work in preparation. A telegram of invitation to address the gathering was sent to Bishop Fowler of Minneapolis, but the reply was received that he was out of the city. John Talman of the St. Paul Pioneer Press has consented to write a memorial ode. The balance of the program remains to be arranged.

Word was received last night from H. D. Hart that Governor Nelson would visit the burned district and would be present at Sunday's exercises if possible.

About $700 in cash has been received, nearly all from the smaller towns. Besides his subscription of $5,000 cash to the relief fund, President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern road has given 5,000 acres of good agricultural lands for the Hinckley survivors. These lands are valued at $8 per acre or $40,000 in the aggregate and will be given to these people for homes.

AT HINCKLEY.

The Death List Growing While Many Are Still Missing.

PINE CITY, Minn., Sept. 6.—The death roll at Hinckley is growing, but slowly. Yesterday the remains of three bodies were brought in from the eastern county road. One was a man. Of the other two, there was left but a hand and a leg. The hand was that of a child, but the leg was that of a boy. Later in the day the bodies of Mr. Lovell and his family, four altogether, were recovered. They lived about two miles north of town.

Searching parties are out in all directions, but their orders are to bury the dead where they lie. The seven bodies brought in with the body of Axel Hanson, county commissioner, which was not included in the previous report, brings the total number in Hinckley up to 221, and in the vicinity of Hinckley to upwards of 230. As yet it has been impossible to approach the mill pond. The heaps of sawdust and edgings, which form its banks are still sending up dense clouds of blinding smoke, rendering it impossible for a man to get near the water. It has been decided to draw off the water, as it is now supposed that there are many bodies in the pond.

FIGHTING FIRE.

Two Small Places Saved After a Long and Desperate Struggle.

DULUTH, Sept. 6.—All last night the citizens of Barnum and Moose Lake, about 50 and 60 miles out on the St. Paul and Duluth, were out fighting fire and asked aid from Duluth. One of the Duluth fire department captains and a crew with 1,000 feet of hose were sent. For hours it was a fight for the safety of the towns, but reports by wire from both places say the towns are safe unless the wind changes back to northeast.

The settlers were also out fighting fires and several buildings and farms were burned, but no lives are reported lost. The smoke is very dense in Duluth, and only a wind is needed to fan all this region into a mass of flames.

SMALL SETTLEMENT WIPE OUT.

Great Loss in Logs and Lumber and Other Property.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 6.—Fisher Meadow, near Estella, a small settlement, was wiped out yesterday. John Paul and James Mitchell, two loggers of this city, lost both of their extensive logging outfits and camps and a large quantity of logs. Warren Flint of Estella lost 200 tons of hay.

Daniel Arneson lost his barn and crops and house in the Bruce fire. The Buchanan mill was also destroyed. The Grand Rapids schoolhouse was burned. The fire is said to be running toward Murray, where danger is apprehended. Mayor Hines of Cumberland has telegraphed that the small towns in that vicinity are in ashes.

Fires Still Burning.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 6.—Along the line of the Omaha railway, south of here, the fires are still burning. At Superior Junction the fires are reported very bad, but at last accounts the town was still safe. At Poplar three residences, a schoolhouse, railway ties, cedar posts and millions of feet of timber were burned. A small settlement about 20 miles north of Iron river burned to the ground last night, but the residents escaped.

Fifty Families Destitute.

MILACA, Minn., Sept. 6.—Late developments show that over 50 families in this vicinity are entirely destitute. A mass meeting was held last night and a relief committee appointed who will go to the cities at once for aid. The county commissioners have appropriated $500. The fires are still burning and great excitement prevails.

Jumped Into a Furnace.

DULUTH, Sept. 6.—The relief party which left here in charge of W. T. Bailey and George Ask to search the eastern line have sent word that near Sandstone it found 18 dead bodies in one dugout, into which the victims had rushed, hoping to escape with their lives, only to find that they had jumped into a veritable furnace.

Town Surrounded by Fire.

DULUTH, Sept. 6.—Barnum, a lumber town of 1,000 inhabitants, 35 miles down the St. Paul and Duluth road, is surrounded by forest fires, and the inhabitants are anxious. Carlton and Kerrick are also reported still in danger.

City Choked in Smoke.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Sept. 6.—Clearfield is surrounded with a dense smoke coming from forest fires in this region. Occasionally fine cinders can be seen flying through the air and the odor of burnt wood is clearly perceptible, all these facts indicating that the desolating fires are not far away from the city.

TALKING THE TREATY OVER.

China Has Been Too Busy With Japan to Take Action.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Before Secretary Gresham left for the west he had a conference with the Chinese minister concerning the Chinese treaty which was ratified by the senate a short time before the adjournment of congress.

Minister Yang Yen told Secretary Gresham that owing to the war which overshadowed all else no action had yet been taken by the Chinese government.

The treaty could first have been ratified by China, but in this case the Chinese government awaited the action of the United States. China has been officially notified by the state department of the ratification of the treaty on the part of the United States, and as soon as it is ratified by China and official notice given the United States, ratifications will be exchanged by the two governments and proclamations issued.

No action will be taken by the United States looking to the enforcement of the treaty until President Cleveland issues the proclamation. Then the secretary of the treasury will issue instructions to the collectors of customs in accordance with the terms of the treaty. Secretary Gresham and the Chinese minister discussed the present merits of the treaty and the minister was assured that as soon as the action of the government was officially received the United States would proceed with its part of the contract.

Saved From Being Lynched.

JULIETTE, Colo., Sept. 6.—Chris Froehm, wife murderer, living about 12 miles from here in Nebraska, was saved from being lynched at Chappell, Neb., where her preliminary hearing was held, by being spirited away on a freight train to Ogallala. Mrs. Froehm disappeared last May. Her husband told the neighbors she had gone away visiting. Her body has been found buried in a field, and it is evident she was killed by a blow on the head or by strangulation. Froehm now claims she hanged herself and he then buried her.

Police Sergeant Shot by Burglars.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—Police Sergeant Nicholas Sheehan was murdered yesterday morning at daylight by two burglars whom the officer was pursuing. The burglars opened fire on the sergeant and he fell to the sidewalk dead with a bullet in his breast. The murderers are still at large and the police have as yet no clew to their identity. Later it was found that the burglars had made an unsuccessful attempt to blow open the safe in the office of the Ohio Provision company.

Wilson's Opponent.

WHEELING, Sept. 6.—Alston Gordon Dayton of Barbour county was nominated by the Second district Republicans yesterday for congress to run against Hon. W. L. Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee.

DEBS' CONTEMPT CASE

It Again Comes Up in the Chicago Courts.

SEVERAL WITNESSES TESTIFY

It Was Proven That Debs Did Not Send the Famous Message "Save Your Money and Buy a Gun"—The Trial Will Be One of the Most Bitterly Contested Legal Battles Ever Fought.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—The contempt cases against Eugene V. Debs, George Howard, Sylvester Keliher, L. W. Rogers, James Hogan, W. E. Burns, Leroy M. Goodwin, W. J. Elliot and J. F. McVean, directors of the American Railway union, came up in the United States circuit court yesterday, before Judge Woods.

The defendants are accused of violating the injunction issued by Judges Woods and Grosscup during the recent strike, which restrained the American Railway union and all others from any interference with the mails or with interstate commerce. It is alleged particularly, in the cases of the officers of the union, that the injunction was repeatedly violated by sending telegraphic orders to strike and in other ways.

All of the defendants filed answers, in which they denied specifically the charges preferred. Over 100 witnesses have been summoned by the government, and the array of legal talent on both sides is a brilliant one.

Edwin F. Walker, chief counsel for the government, told the court that since July 25, from which date the contempt proceedings were continued, supplemental information had been filed against Hogan, Burns and others. At that time the judge on the bench denied a motion made by the defendants for a trial by jury, which Judge Woods denied on the ground that this was not a criminal proceeding.

District Attorney Milchrist read the supplemental information. At this point John Miller noted his presence on behalf of the Santa Fe road, which is one of the roads alleged to have been injured by the actions of the defendants. Various legal points were raised, but Judge Woods declined to listen to quibbling. He said: "The essence of all these cases is whether the defendants have violated an injunction issued by the United States court. That is the important point in this case."

The court decided that all of the cases before the various defendants should be tried as one, and the cases of the Santa Fe should go along with those of the government, and witnesses for one be considered as witnesses for both.

The first witness called was Edwin M. Milford, manager of the Western Union company. He was asked to produce certain telegrams in court, but refused to do so until the court ruled on it. The court ruled that they must be produced.

Then a number of objections were made by the counsel for the defense on technical points. They fought every step of the way, and it was evident that there would be a bitterly contested legal battle. Finally the witness was permitted to read telegrams which passed between Debs and Phelan, who had charge of the boycott in Cincinnati.

Dozens of telegrams were read, and when the famous "Save-your-money-and-buy-a-gun" message was reached, it was found that it also contained the words, "Tell Eddie I am well," showing it to be a private telegram.

Attorney Gregory took occasion to denounce the prosecution for giving the incomplete message for publication.

Judge Woods said that he did not consider that the alleged garbling of the dispatch amounted to much.

"When I read that telegram in the papers," said the court, "I did not attach much importance to it as it did not appear particularly incendiary."

It was shown that Debs had nothing to do with the sending of the "buy-a-gun" dispatch and that it was sent by a subordinate.

After the reading of other telegrams Mr. Milford was temporarily excused, and John Brennock, a city contractor, took the stand.

During his hearing President Debs entered the courtroom. He was pale from his recent illness and seemed scarcely able to stand as he walked slowly to his seat.

Mr. Brennock stated how the Panhandle railroad was unable to move several cars of dead animals on account of the strike, when witness called on the mayor, who sent a man with him to see Debs, who gave him a note to the Panhandle road to the effect that should the Panhandle people move the dead animal cars they would not be interfered with.

"The Panhandle people paid no attention to this," said the witness. After waiting some days he finally had the cars moved with the assistance of the police.

Mr. Mulford then resumed the witness stand and continued to read telegrams. It was found that the original telegrams in most cases were in typewriting, with the name of Mr. Debs printed on it. Part of them were written in a rather schoolboyish hand.

which the witness was sure could not be Mr. Debs'. He said he knew Mr. Debs' handwriting, and out of more than 100 telegrams examined he picked out two during the day which Mr. Mulford said belonged to Mr. Debs.

Mr. Erwin brought out the testimony that a person who held a frank like Mr. Debs was only compelled to present the signature the first time when it was registered, and telegraph receivers after that sent all the messages brought to them signed by that name without knowing who wrote them. One of the dispatches, said to be in Mr. Debs' handwriting, was as follows:

To Lee Mez, Mattoon, Ills.: Tie up Big Four. Ted up at Cairo and Cincinnati. Other points will be tied up today. We are gaining ground and success certain. E. V. DEBS.

At 5 o'clock court adjourned.

FIGHT AMONG NEGROES.

A Deportation Scheme Broken Up and Several People Wounded.

ATLANTA, Sept. 6.—Gaston's negro deportation scheme is broken up temporarily at least in Hancock county. Gaston himself has a pistol ball in his head. Crawford Holsey has a broken thigh and Isaac Dickson will die from wounds which he received in the fight Monday night. Anna Jenkins, wife of the man who led the opposition to Gaston, is badly wounded but not dangerously.

The fight was altogether among the negroes and the whites had nothing to do with it. Dan Jenkins, a leading negro of Hancock county, told his people that Gaston was deluding them, and that his emigration scheme was a swindle. This incensed Gaston and his lieutenants, and they threatened Jenkins. Gaston, who was formerly in Atlanta and worked up a deportation scheme here, has been in Hancock county for three or four months. He held meetings and preached to the blacks, who flocked to hear him about the promised land—Liberia.

Gaston collected $1 from every man, woman and child who enrolled as a colonist for Liberia. He is a plausible talker and had 3,000 of his race pledged to go to Africa. He told them that it was a glorious country where riches came easily. Time and again he appointed a day for their departure, but when the time arrived, Gaston was somewhere else. After frequent disappointments some of the emigrants began to believe what Jenkins and their white friends had told them.

But it was too late. They had sold their property, Gaston had part of the money and the balance they had spent. Their crops had gone to waste. Dissatisfaction reigned. Some of them became desperate and a number of them armed themselves and called on Gaston for the purpose of having him refund their money. Gaston rallied a number of negroes to his assistance and a battle ensued.

The planters sympathized with Jenkins, who was working for the best interests of his people. This fact has been distorted into active participation by the whites in Monday night's fight.

Strange Accident.

ALDERSON, Eng., Sept. 6.—A strange accident occurred yesterday during some experiments with a military captive balloon which were taking place in the presence of the Duke of Connaught. The weather was stormy, and, while the balloon was being hauled down from its elevation by means of a wire rope attached to a winch, it was struck by lightning and the electric fluid, running down the rope, knocked down and seriously injured three members of the engineer corps who were at work at the winch.

The three soldiers are not expected to live.

Died While Out Camping.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Sept. 6.—A telegram received from New Castle, Colo., announces the death there of George A. Eddy of this city. He died of heart disease while out camping.

Mr. Eddy was 61 years old and had lived in Leavenworth since 1847. Seven years ago he was appointed receiver for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, resigning three years later. He left a rich estate.

Surprise to Most People.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—The Hon. William R. Myers, secretary of state, and head of Democratic state ticket, was married yesterday to Miss Florence McLean Stewart, sister of C. G. Stewart, managing editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel. The marriage was a surprise, as no announcement of it had been made.

Bank Official Sentenced.

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 6.—The territorial supreme court has affirmed the decision of the lower court sentencing Stephen M. Folsom, late president of the Albuquerque National bank, to five years in the penitentiary for making false statements of the bank's finances.

Finally Landee in Jail.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6.—John Mueller, an insane German, terrorized the village of Olmstead Falls, near here, set fire to the town calaboose twice, was shot by a farmer with birdshot and was eventually landed in jail.

Suing a Railroad.

WELLSVILLE, O., Sept. 6.—Conductor R. B. Rawlston of Wellsville has sued the Pennsylvania Railroad company for $20,000 damages for injuries received in collision, due to a mistake in orders. He was crippled for life.

Victim of the Faith Cure.

PIQUA, O., Sept. 6.—Katie Winans, daughter of the late John Winans and the second victim of the Christian science faith cure, died. Health Officer Prince compelled the family to secure the services of a physician, but typhoid fever had taken too firm a hold.

Generally fair weather; cooler.

GOVERNOR TURNEY, of Tennessee, has offered $5,000 reward for the apprehension of the parties who lynched six negroes a few nights ago. This ought to bring the desperadoes to justice.

The Populists were not in it at the State election in Arkansas this week. If they carried a single county it had not been reported at last accounts. Democrats did better than two years ago.

The latest thing the Courier-Journal has discovered against Colonel Breckinridge is that he is behind in his house rent. Nothing is too little for the C.J. to stoop to in its fight against Breckinridge.

"If we have anywhere uncovered a trust and found it toolstrong for complete dislodgement in the first attempt, we have never failed to find the Republicans sturdily and solidly arrayed for its defense."—Speaker Wilson.

SENATOR JONES, of Nevada, in deserting the G. O. P. and going over to the Populists, has probably cast his "anchor to windward." His State is a Populist and free silver stronghold and his successor will be chosen two years hence.

The tax rate in New York City for the current fiscal year has been fixed at $1.79 on the $100, the lowest rate for the past thirty years. The tax rate for Philadelphia is likely to remain for another year at the present figure, $1.83. New York is Democratic, Philadelphia Republican.

The income tax is as equitable as any that could possibly be levied; hence the antagonism to it of Republicans, as all their legislation has tended to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. What could be more just, as long as taxation has to be resorted to to defray the Government's expenses, than that men who are rich enough to have such a boon as incomes, should contribute something out of these incomes to bear their part of the burden. This measure, like all those making to the advantage of the middle class as against the rich, originated with the Democratic party, the party of the people.

CHEAPER CLOTHES AND HIGHER WOOL.

"Free wool will make cheaper clothes, benefiting all the people, and will increase the price of domestic wool, benefiting the farmer. This may seem to be paradoxical; it is not," says the New York World.

"Under our old-time free-wool policy flocks increased in numbers and the price of wool was maintained because there was a demand for wool. Foreign wools are needed for admixture with our own wools in this country, and when their importation is diminished by a tariff duty the demand for American wools necessarily falls off. Under high protection on wool flocks of sheep have diminished and prices for wool have gone down. Already the price of domestic wool has increased in this country since the passage of the Senate bill. A month ago American wools sold in New York and Boston for from 19 to 34 cents a pound, according to quality. Since then the demand has increased, and the prices now range from 22 to 37 cents.

"Clothes will be cheaper because the tax on imported cloth and clothing has been reduced. As wool is free, the old compensatory duty is abolished. Under the McKinley law the rate of duty on cheap woollen cloth was from 150 to 163 per cent., and on dearer cloth from 89 to 99 per cent. Under the new bill it will be from 35 to 50 per cent. The duty on knit goods was from 82 to 160 per cent. It will now be from 35 to 50 per cent. The tax on blankets was from 80 to 104 per cent. It will range from 25 to 40. On flannels the rate was from 85 to 104. It will be from 25 to 50. Women's dress goods paid from 87 to 109, cloaks 81 per cent., and ready-made clothing 80 per cent. All these will pay 50 per cent. Carpets paid from 61 to 83 per cent. They will pay from 30 to 424.

"We have been considering woollen cloth worthy of the name. Cheap woollen cloths are not unknown in this country, but cheap all-wool cloths are not made here. As the manufacturers could not buy the foreign wools needed for making cheap cloths, they were obliged to resort to shoddy and other substitutes for wool. The consequence is, as statistics show, that the average American woollen cloth is about half shoddy."

A Matchless Oration.

Gen. Gordon's lecture, or oration it may be better termed, is a matchless sermon from the gospel of peace by a matchless fighter in the days of war. He had the courage of his convictions when they led him to battle, and he utters them bravely to-day in cementing the ties of solidarity admiration for the men who fought, and patriotic love for the great republic which survives the conflict. Gen. Gordon's lecture was a surprise and gratification even to those who knew his oratorical powers. Unlike most things of which much is said in advance, it measured up fully to every expectation, and reached a point of interest and excellence not anticipated by his warmest admirers. It was a great oratorial performance, dealing with the loftiest sentiments and the best known and most conspicuous characters in modern history, without once being overdone, or falling below the requirements of the occasion.—Augusta Chronicle.

Don't fail to hear General Gordon tomorrow night at the opera house. The box-sheet at Nelson's indicates that he will be greeted by a big crowd.

Rushed With Orders.

Said a prominent Cincinnati official of the Western Union: "Friday and Saturday were unusually busy days with us. It has been a long, long time indeed since so many orders for goods of all kinds have gone East over our wires. They were from all parts of the country, and some of them were of most encouraging tenor. It must be that the adjustment of the tariff controversy has restored confidence, or at least given business men a basis to work on."

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, upon this condition. ## If You Want to Fit the Children With the Best School Shoes For the Least Money, Go to BARKLEY'S.

MRS. LUCRETIA S. WOOD.

Death, at Washington, of One of the County's Most Highly Respected Citizens.

In the person of Mrs. Lucretia S. Wood, who passed away at her home in Washington, this morning at 5 o'clock, there has gone on that journey whence none ever return one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the county.

She was the second wife of David Wood, Esq., who preceded here to the grave more than twenty years.

She came of a most excellent Maryland family, having been born at Hagerstown nearly ninety years ago, a daughter of O. H. W. Stull, Esq., who was afterwards Private Secretary of Hon. John Chambers when he was Territorial Governor of Iowa, and whose kinsman he was.

Mrs. Wood had been a consistent and worthy member of the Presbyterian Church for largely more than fifty years, and was a woman of very superior mind which she retained to the last, together with all her natural faculties.

Her funeral services will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Deceased was the step-mother of Mr. David Wood, of Forest avenue.

Will Investigate.

The George Livingstone Comedy Company that floated by here a few days ago on a show boat reported that Winfield Scott Piper, song and dance man, had fallen overboard and drowned near Hanging Rock, O., and that his body was afterwards recovered and buried. The Ashland News says: "A telegram has been had since by the Lawrence County Coroner, from Piper's brother, of McArthur, O., and as the Coroner knows nothing of the occurrence, nor do the river men of that section, it looks like something wrong. The matter will be investigated."

Base Ball Gossip.

The Paris team is too busy, it appears, with the Bourbon fair and the Lexington club to come down this week. No response to the letters and telegrams asking for games to-day and to-morrow had been received at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Baltimores, who are now in the lead in the League fight, will be in Cincinnati next week and will have two days off. Manager Watson of the Maysville club has written to get them here on Thursday or Friday if possible.

TAKE in the Norwood Amusement Club's excursion to Oligo-Nunk next Saturday. Round trip from Maysville, only $1.50.

LECTURES in this city, as a rule, have, financially, been failures, but the reputation of General Gordon as an orator, the universal praise accorded his lecture, and the incentive to add to the charity fund of the Confederate Veteran camp should certainly crowd the opera house on to-morrow night.

An industrial revival is breaking out all over the country. At Birmingham, Ala., furnaces idle for a year are being "blown in," the iron trade is on a boom and more coal is being mined than at any time for a year past. New mines are being opened, more men are employed; and the demands of trade can not be met.

THE Ashland News has the following complimentary reference to a minister well known in this city, a son-in-law of Mr. R. B. Lovel: "Rev. Mr. Sims, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, will attend conference at Huntington this week. He preached his closing sermon here last Sunday evening. Without an exception it seems to be the wish of his congregation and people in general that he shall be returned to his same charge. In a quiet and unpretentious way he has done untold good while in this city. Aside from this there is not a more able and pleasant speaker in the State, and there is not a brighter minister in the whole conference."

THE following is told of that endeared and incomparable gentleman and excellent divine, Dr. Thomas R. Markham, whose demise lately occurred at New Orleans, an account of which appeared in this paper. His joviality was perennial, and he was as ready at repartee as a son of the Emerald Isle. Under appointment of Presbytery it was his duty to hold services once a year in one of the Florida parishes of Louisiana. Arriving in a village for such a purpose, along in the eighties, the Presbyterian Church building being out of repair, the doors of the Methodist edifice were opened for Dr. Markham. This latter house of worship was also out of repair. In descending the steps of the pulpit a board near the bottom gave way, the Doctor stumbled and partially fell. The local Methodist minister present hastened to assist Dr. Markham to perpendicularity, and remarked, sotto voce: "I regret to see a Presbyterian minister fall from grace." "Yes," retorted Dr. M., "but I wouldn't have fallen if I hadn't been in a Methodist pulpit."

PERFECTION REACHED

In the Eagle Fanning Mill and Separator—What the Lexington Transcript Says.

Lexington Transcript: "The enterprising and successful farmer keeps his eyes open and secures every first-class machine or implement that will increase his profits. It is well enough to have good plows, harrows, reapers and other machinery, in order to raise and gather grain, but very few farmers take the proper precaution in cleaning and grading their grain. The principal reason for this is that but few, if any, perfect grain separators have been put on the market in the past. This, however, has been accomplished at last by the invention of the Eagle Fanning Mill and Separator, manufactured at Maysville and exhibited at the recent fair by the Superintendent of the company, Mr. L. M. Mills. A large number of farmers constantly surrounded this machine and watched with interest and surprise its operation. Mr. Mills poured together wheat, cheat, cut grains, clover, timothy and weed seeds, and after thoroughly mixing them poured them into the hopper. The separator was then started and the whole run through, each kind of seed coming out completely cleaned and separated from the other. It cleans seed wheat perfectly, or any kind of seed, and needs no changing from one kind to another. It runs lightly and rapidly and no farmer can afford to be without one if he wants to sow clean seed."

MAYSVILLE is to be congratulated upon securing such a brilliant and talented lecturer as General Gordon. The camp of Confederate Veterans were enabled to get him because he was en route from Georgetown, Ky., to Portsmouth, O., and thence to Pittsburg, and Maysville was directly in line. We hope the citizens will not let that organization lose money. It has never asked a dollar of any one, and now gives more than value received to all who will attend the lecture.

SWINDLERS with various schemes are just now making life interesting for farmers in certain sections. The wide-awake, progressive farmer, however, is not bothered by these rascals. He takes his county paper, reads the advertisements, and when in need of farm machinery, he goes direct to his home dealers and buys it. He knows they cannot afford to misrepresent anything to him, and if any piece of machinery fails to do as represented, he has redress on the dealer, who will only be too glad to make it good.

DECLARED A DRAW.

Drawn Battle Between Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy of Australia fought a drawn battle last night in the arena of the Auditorium Athletic club before a large audience. Both men were carefully trained and entered the ring promptly at 9 o'clock, followed by their seconds. Each received a fair share of applause, but the greeting given to Dempsey clearly showed that his friends were in the majority. The contest was confined to 20 rounds. John Duffy acted as referee.

Dempsey was first to weigh, fixing the scales himself. He weighed 146 pounds. McCarthy tested the scales, weighing 154 pounds, the limit. Time was called at 9:15; the men advanced to the center of the ring and the fight was on.

First round—Mac led for the stomach. Dempsey missed a right swing for the head. McCarthy was on the aggressive. Dempsey scored a body blow. Dempsey landed a right on the head and then both landed heavy swings on the head and lefts on the jaws.

Second round—McCarthy scored a right on the body. Both landed on the head, the Australian fighting for the body and Dempsey for head. Dempsey missed a left swing for head, but caught McCarthy on the nose a moment later. Dempsey scored a body blow, on the neck and on the body a moment later, receiving in return a left-hander. McCarthy caught a heavy left-hand swing on the jaw. The round closed in Dempsey's favor.

Third round—Dempsey landed a left on the nose and the men clinched. McCarthy missed two vicious rights, but ran into a heavy right on the jaw, Dempsey landing another right on the jaw which nearly knocked McCarthy down. He received terrible punishment in this round. The round closed with Dempsey landing a left on the nose.

Fourth round—Dempsey landed a heavy left on his opponent's nose, and got away. Both men scored blows on the head. Dempsey landed a heavy swing in the stomach and the right a moment later in the same place. This was Dempsey's round.

Fifth round—Both men missed and nearly fell to the ground. McCarthy recovered and nearly fell through the ropes attempting to land a right. Clinch followed clinch. Dempsey scored a left on the nose and a right on the body. Dempsey was now the aggressor, and landed right and left on the face.

Sixth round—McCarthy was the aggressor. Dempsey landed left on jaw. Dempsey seemed able to score heavy body blows at will. McCarthy avoided a heavy swing that nearly left Dempsey off the ground. McCarthy caught a left on the jaw, but missed a similar blow a minute later. Both landed heavy body blows.

Seventh round—The men commenced by clinching. Dempsey landed body blows after the breakaway. Mac forced Dempsey into the ropes and landed a right on the head. Dempsey landed a stomach punch. McCarthy was swinging very wild. Both men landed body blows, but McCarthy received a very heavy right without giving a return. Dempsey landed rights on face and head and had much the better of this round.

Eighth round—McCarthy clinched to avoid punishment. He missed a right for the head and the men nearly fell through the ropes. Dempsey continued his terrific rights on the body, both landed lefts on the head and fell on the ropes. Several clinches in this round, mainly due to Dempsey's generalship. Dempsey landed two rights on the jaw just as time was called.

From this round to the 20th round Dempsey did all the execution, landing rights and lefts, but he could not knock out his game opponent. The fight was declared a draw and the purse, $2,000, was divided.

A FISHERMAN'S CRIME.

He Kills His Wife and Dangerously Wounds His Mother-in-Law.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 6.—William F. Hayes, a young white man, 20 years of age, a fisherman by occupation, murdered his 16-year-old wife and dangerously wounded his mother-in-law, Mrs. Susan Mason, last night, in East Jacksonville. Hayes' wife had left him on account of his cruelty several months ago, and gone to live with her mother.

Last night Hayes appeared at the house and was admitted. Without provocation he began shooting, wounding Mrs. Mason twice in the head and once in the side. His wife ran behind the bed and he followed her, shooting her through the back, the ball passing through her heart, out of her left breast and through her left hand. Hayes then calmly reloaded his pistol and walked out. This is the statement of Mrs. Mason. A watchman who roomed at the house discovered the dead and wounded pair this morning. Searching parties are now after the murderer.

Collision of Vessels.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Henry M. Flagler's big steam yacht, Alicia, collided with the New York, New Haven and Hartford freight transfer Express, in the East river yesterday. The yacht's bowsprit was carried away and her forward overhanging stove in for about 10 feet. Two of the crew were knocked overboard by the force of the collision, but were subsequently rescued. The Express was only slightly damaged. After the collision both vessels drifted about helplessly for some time, but the Express made her way to her landing on the Harlem river, while the Alicia proceeded without assistance to land.

Had No Evidence.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 6.—The committee of three members of the International Typographical union appointed to investigate the charge of mismanagement against the superintendent of the printers, home, after a complete investigation, have completely exonerated Superintendent Schuman. They find that John Conway had no evidence whatever to bring against the superintendent and they recommend his removal from the home.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Henry Clews, the New York Financier, Thinks a Permanent Revival Is Assured.

Henry Clews, the New York financier, in his weekly letter on the business outlook, talks very encouragingly. He believes a permanent revival is now assured.

"The starting up of manufacturing and merchandising now apparent on every hand is," he says, "a reason for expecting a permanent revival of confidence, an increase in the earnings of the railroads and improving dividends upon corporate capital generally. That, the capitalist holders consider to be the true time for realizing; and, with money still abundant and cheap, they see no reason for parting with property which a few weeks or months hence is likely to be worth much more than it would bring upon large sales-to-day. Another motive influencing this class to cling to their holdings is the fact that, owing to the large amount of stock held stagnant through receiverships, this is, and for some time must remain, a comparatively narrow market, not best calculated to draw into Wall street a large outside interest. The practical significance of this factor is that, until a considerably higher range of prices is reached, the market is likely to be sustained by comparatively light offerings of stocks and by the countenance of a very influential class of holders.

"The crop reports show improving prospects for the railroads. The latest estimates indicate a probability of fully 500,000,000 bushels of wheat. Up to the 20th of August, the crop of corn was estimated at about 1,500,000,000 bushels; but later weather conditions have encouraged the hope that the yield may prove to be close upon an average. So far as respects transportation interests, the increase in wheat, amounting to something near 100,000,000 bushels, will probably quite offset any possible falling off in corn; for, relatively, a smaller portion of the corn crop than of the wheat crop is subject to long hauls; and the large increase in the latter crop will have to travel from West to East for export. It, therefore, would not be surprising if the earnings of the railroads out of this year's crops quite equal those of average years. So far as the crops affect the farming interest and its ability to purchase supplies at the East, the chances are much better than they were earlier in the season. If the price of wheat is low, yet its yield is now estimated at 25 per cent greater than last year's; and, for any reduction, of say 10 per cent, in the crop of corn, there is, at present, the compensation of an advance over last year's prices of the same date of fully 30 per cent. The farmers' prospects may, therefore, be reckoned as fully up to the average of late years; which, after all, did not prevent the agricultural sections from suffering much less than any other under the trials of last year."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

SEVEN PLAIN WHITE SLIPS.

One a Day is Better Than a Satin One Monthly For a Little Girl.

All wool French chistles are selling at very low prices, and they are shown this season in extremely pretty patterns. There are small detached flower sprays on a light ground—tiny moss rosebuds or violets—and also more connected floral designs, close Persian patterns in medium shades and various stripes and flecks, mainly in red. These goods not only make cool and pretty dresses and tea gowns for "grownup ladies," as children say, but are especially suitable for little girls and misses' attire, being simple, dainty and inexpensive. Narrow ribbon band, so much used as trimming of late, are a particularly appropriate decoration, the color of the ribbon being chosen to match that of the figure on the goods. This garniture is even prettier than that for children's frocks, being less quickly defaced.

Cashmere, flannel, thin French serge, challie and for exceptional occasions china silk are the richest materials that should be used for a little girl's gowns. There is no danger that she will not look daintily well dressed if her wardrobe is carefully selected and well made. Let money be put into the fitting and finishing rather than into the stuff itself. Plained and figured white nainsook dresses trimmed with a modest amount of fine valenciennes lace or delicate embroidery are infinitely preferable to silk frocks for little people, for nainsook is new every time it is washed, while silk is old at the second time of an active child's wearing. The main thing to be desired is immaculateness. Seven plain white slips a week are better and show a more refined taste than one satin one a month. Keep the little girl a child as long as possible. Do not smother her youth in mature materials and make her a mere doll. She can be a little girl only a little while at most.

CROP OUTLOOK IN KENTUCKY.

The Drouth Still Unbroken in Some Sections—Weekly Report of the Weather Bureau.

The warmth of the past week has done much to counteract the beneficial effect of the rains that fell the week before. While there is no general complaint of drouth, all the correspondents say that rain is needed. The week's temperature was considerably above the normal, averaging about 7 degrees per day, and the rainfall greatly below the usual amount received. The rainfall occurred as local showers and was badly distributed. In some localities, in Bourbon, Oldham, Lincoln and a few other counties, the correspondents say the drouth is still unbroken, crops of all kinds suffering and springs and cisterns failing. On the whole, however, the reports indicate a greatly more promising condition at present than for a long time past. Late corn, tobacco, pastures and gardens have improved beyond expectation, and some say will be fully up to the average if favorable weather continues.

Tobacco cutting is in progress, though slowly. Late potatoes are yielding fairly well, but the tubers are small.

Not a great deal of fall plowing has been done as yet, the ground not being in a very favorable condition.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism; his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. James Wood.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50¢ and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
